Introducing the Bronze National Navigation Award, a practical and hands-on adventure designed especially for those with no prior navigation experience. Whether you're a newcomer to the wilderness or someone who has always relied on others, guidebooks, or well-marked routes, this award is perfect for you!

Picture yourself exploring the untamed beauty of nature, confidently navigating through the countryside using paths, tracks, and other fascinating linear features. The Bronze National Navigation Award will empower you with essential skills to read and interpret maps, as well as master the art of compass work. No longer will you feel lost or unsure of your surroundings – instead, you'll be equipped with the tools to navigate with precision and confidence.

But that's not all! The Bronze National Navigation Award is not only a thrilling personal adventure but also the starting point for many prestigious programs such as the Duke of Edinburgh Award, Scouts and Guides, and cadet groups. It's the gateway to developing your outdoor skills and opening up a world of opportunities for personal growth and adventure.

Let's talk about the perks of this incredible two-day course. Firstly, it will be held in the stunning locale of Newcastle, known for its picturesque landscapes and breathtaking scenery. You won't have to worry about transportation, as it will be provided for you. We'll ensure you have all the necessary technical equipment to make the most of your experience. And to keep your energy levels high, we'll even provide hot drinks and snacks throughout the course. So you can focus on exploring, learning, and having an unforgettable time!

We'll kick off each adventurous day bright and early at 8:30 am. Prepare to dive into a world of map reading, compass work, and navigation techniques. As the day unfolds, you'll be amazed at how your skills progress, and by 4:30 pm, we'll wrap up the day's activities. But don't worry, the excitement will continue as you eagerly anticipate day two of this epic adventure!

So, are you ready to chart your own course, explore the wilderness, and unlock your full potential? Sign up now for the Bronze National Navigation Award and let the adventure begin!
